About HSMC: Historic St. Mary's City (HSMC) is an outdoor museum of living history and archaeology located on the site of Maryland's first capital (1634-1695). Decades of research are the foundation of exhibits assembled across the landscape. Recreated structures include the historic town center, a Woodland Indian Hamlet, a tall ship, a tobacco plantation staffed by costumed or uniformed interpreters help visitors understand the stories of Maryland's founding. Additionally, the museum operates a beautiful bed and breakfast.

HSMC is one of southern Maryland's leading tourism attractions and hosts an active school tour program. The museum's collections are a resource for professional archaeologists, scholars, and college students. The HSMC field school in historical archaeology, the longest running field school in the nation, attracts students from all over the United States as well as from other countries. The museum is an independent instrumentality of the State of Maryland within the Office of the Governor.
